Early Action Promised in National League Base Ball War.

BOSTON CLUB CHANGES HANDS

Women's Golf Association Re-Elects Officers.

M'Eachern Breaks Record

In the past two days there has been some action in the New York court proceedings in the base ball war, and if the attorneys for Andrew Freedman and A. G. Spalding, respectively, can get together and agree on a day for arguing the injunction case as it now stands it may soon be decided. The action as to Spalding's standing as president of the National League.

A. W. Kiddle, attorney for Spalding, said yesterday in New York: "We are ready to argue the matter at any time Mr. Nicoll will serve us with notice of trial. Many interesting points will come up under the different clauses of the contract when the question is argued before the court. Rest assured there will be no delays interposed by our side the first day the case is put on the calendar, and I am confident the action will be dismissed."

Although A. G. Spalding is at present keeping very quiet an interesting story from Chicago appears to throw some light on a possible unraveling of the base ball angle. It states that last week President Soden of the Boston club, who is in connection with certain trusted agents of the Spalding faction, while his partners, Conant and Blaine, were being kept in publication in Boston, paying glowing tributes to the integrity of Spalding.

"In brief," the story says, "while Soden was negotiating with Spalding about the coming jump of the Boston club to the Spalding camp his partners were at home preparing the populace for the shock of Soden's desertion from the Freedman faction."

KILLILEA BUYS BOSTON CLUB.

Milwaukee Magnate Obtains Control of American League Team.

Henry J. Killilea of Milwaukee, who has just disposed of his holdings in the St. Louis American League team, now owns the Boston American League team. This announcement was made late yesterday in Milwaukee. Mr. Killilea admitted that he secured a controlling interest in the Boston club on or about August 10 last and that he was at the hub closing the deal when it was announced that he was conferring with President Ban Johnson relative to the transfer of the Milwaukee club to St. Louis.

The terms of the deal whereby Mr. Killilea secured a majority of the stock of the Boston club were the payment of $45,000 in cash for five-ninths of the stock, and there was a condition that the new owners, who sold the stock, would receive an opportunity to redeem it the first of the year, if he was able financially and so in the event of the stock being redeemed, Mr. Killilea secured the other four-ninths, and states that he now owns the whole outfit. Mr. Somers is the holder of one share of stock, valued at $10, and this little holding is left with him, so that he will be legally qualified to hold the position of president.

Henry Killilea came forward with $45,000 in cash as an investment in the Boston club during the early part of August to assist President Somers, who met with financial misfortune in the purchase of the Boston club, and who had a large interest in Boston or any other city. Between the time of the Killilea purchase and the close of the American League season, Mr. Killilea realized as his share of the profits of the Boston club within a few thousand dollars of the amount he invested. Organization under the new ownership has not been effected, but the matter is now being seriously considered. "Jimmie" Collins, who has been so successful as the manager of the Beaneaters, is expected to be chosen before the close of the present week for a conference. Hugh Duffy has been invited to go there also.

H. P. Dixon Won Cup for Best Net in the South.

Golfers were in full force yesterday at Palm Beach, Fla., competing in the medal play handicap over thirty-six holes. Mr. George E. Barnard of Boston presented a cup for the best net score, while Mr. J. D. Adams of Brooklyn gave a trophy for the best gross score.

H. P. Dixon of Media, Pa., led the field for the Barnard cup, thanks to a handicap of twenty and a total score of 163. Other players in the order of their scores were: Charles B. Cory of Boston, E. A. Mulliken of Boston and John Miller, Jr., of the Apawamis Club tied for the Adams cup, each player handing in a card of 162. The tie is being played off today, and also a handicap for women.
